Matt's objective is to always work in an environment where he can help people obtain financial security. He has a wealth of experience in the financial planning and accounting industry so advisers benefit from his advice and business insights.

Matthew has been involved in the financial services industry since 1998. Over that time he has been directly involved with growing client's wealth and also protecting it during challenging times such as the GFC.

Matthew has significant experience in working with High Net Worth individuals, and understanding their particular needs and nuances. He is a strong believer in not adhering to a one size fits all approach, as all individuals have different objectives and needs.

He has a significant empathy with clients, and understands that whilst advisers can't control the investment markets they can certainly control the quality of advice that they deliver their clients.

He is a Fellow of the Financial Services Institute of Australia (FINSIA) and brings a wealth of advisory experience to the Omniwealth Investment committee. Clients and Authorised Representatives will benefit from his pragmatic approach to investing.

"The Omniwealth investment committee is all about delivering an independent consensus of opinions in relation to the current position of the global and local investment markets. We believe it will be a valuable resource for the Omniwealth clients and Authorised Representatives now and into the future"
